Claims 5, 11, 12, 15 and 16 are acted upon on their merits to the extent that they read on the elected invention. See paper number 17 of the instant application and paper number 6 of parent application 08/440,428 wherein the specific compound imidoclopid was elected. The claims read on a multitude of active compounds that are so non-related to each other and so different that they can clearly support separate patents. Therefore, the restriction requirement is deemed proper and adhered to. Cancellation of non-elected claims and subject matter from other claims is now required.

Claims 5, 11, 12, 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Kristiansen et al. (A), Shiokawa et al. (B), Elbert et al. (AT) and Derwent Abstract of JP 03,279,389 (AR"), all of record and for reasons of record as set forth in paper number 17, page 3, regarding the rejection of claims 2-5 and 10-12. Applicants' arguments have been carefully considered; however, they are not deemed persuasive. The prior art teaches that the claim designated pyridinylomethyl-imidazolidinium compounds are effective against insects of the type claimed and applied to the same locus of the claims, i.e. environment. For example, see the Shiokawa et al. reference, col.4 lines 62-67, wherein the active compounds can be applied to warm-blooded animals in the hygiene field. Clearly this is the same locus of the instant claims. Thus, no patentable distinction can be seen between the claims of record and the state of the art as taught by the prior art. With regard to the second Dr. Hubert Dorn declaration, dated April 7, 1997, said declaration is not of record in the instant application.
